

NorQuest by the numbers

SIZE

12,435

full-time and part-time credit students*

7,876

non-credit or continuing education students,
including assessment examinations*

42

post-secondary
career credentials

8

foundational programs

419

clients served by the Alberta Indigenous Construction Career Centre

16,209

individual learners served by NorQuest College

1,879 graduates from
credit programs

8,141

Full-Load Equivalents
(FLE)

STUDENT DIVERSITY

35%

from outside greater Edmonton area

65%

from greater Edmonton area

59%

Female

28%

Male

(students)

2,135

international learners

102

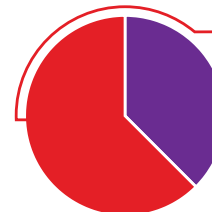

countries of birth

77

first languages spoken
on campus

31

average age
of credit
students

56%
age 25
and over

44%
age 24
and under

1,143

credit students self-identified as Indigenous (First Nations, Métis or Inuit ancestry)

946

students used accessibility
services

* Some of our learners engage in credit and non-credit programming, and are included in both learner totals.

 FLE is a measure used to make comparable calculations across different institutions and programs. It is measured by taking the load of the student enrolled (instructional hours + practicum hours) and dividing by the full load of that program. This results in a comparable metric to be able to use across the system.

 This total is an under-representation of NorQuest College credit students of Indigenous descent as it only reflects those who self-identified as Indigenous at the time of application.