LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

NorQuest College serves its learners and the community from within Treaty Six Territory—the traditional gathering place for Cree, Dene, Blackfoot, Saulteaux, Anishinaabe, Nakota Sioux, and Inuit. This land is also the home of Métis Nation of Alberta, and we are proud to celebrate the rich cultural heritage of Métis People in the Edmonton Whitemud Métis District and the North Saskatchewan River Territory, and at our Wetaskiwin campus in the Red Deer Métis District and Battle River Territory.

NorQuest recognizes that we are on a collective journey towards reconciliation, and this means the college is committed to growing, listening, and learning from Indigenous Peoples while regularly reflecting on our progress in these important acts.

NorQuest acknowledges that this journey is not straightforward and is sometimes difficult, but the college is committed to unlearning colonial ways of thinking while honouring and learning the histories, languages, ceremonies, and cultures of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis Peoples of past, present, and future generations.

THE MIYO- PIMÂTISIWIN CENTRE

Miyo-pimâtisiwin means ‘to live a good life’ in Cree and is a welcoming space for Indigenous students and the college community. Designed to be a gathering place, students and staff can come together to share meals, tell stories, and participate in ceremonies.

It is impactful having a safe space where tutors meet one on one with students. There aren’t many places you can smudge indoors, but the Miyo-pimâtisiwin Centre allows this. This was helpful in calming my anxiety before tests and exams and helped to centre me.

Rob Gurney
Social Work graduate

WAIVED APPLICATION AND TUITION DEPOSIT FEES

During the application process, Indigenous students do not need to pay the application fee or tuition deposit.

INDIGENOUS STUDENT ADVISORS

NorQuest has a friendly and knowledgeable team of Indigenous Student Advisors who can help you navigate your academic journey with a holistic approach, including academic, cultural, social, and physical considerations.

COMPLETION CEREMONY

When Indigenous students graduate from their NorQuest program, they can celebrate with their family, friends, and Elders in a way that honours their ancestors and commemorates their traditions.

Non-Indigenous students are also welcomed at the Centre and can learn more about Indigenous teachings and traditions by:

- Learning how to smudge and engaging in smudging ceremonies
- Touring the Centre and asking staff for guidance on Indigenous teachings
- Being invited to cultural ceremonies and events when appropriate

If non-Indigenous students are looking for a quiet area to study with Indigenous peers, they are welcome to come into the Centre during operational hours.
