Overview:
In the event of a student’s death, NorQuest College (college) employees are to respond in a sensitive and compassionate manner. The communication of the student’s death and any subsequent activities should remain as streamlined as possible. Effort will be made to minimize bureaucratic procedures and the number of interactions with the bereaved next-of-kin to obtain closure as quickly as possible, with minimum distress.

This procedure applies to the death of applicants, current and former students, and college alumni.

This procedure does not cover the response of an emergency incident such that a death has occurred on campus or during participation in a college event or activity. In such an incident, 911 should be the first point of contact followed by campus Security. All other actions will be according to the college’s Emergency and Continuity Management Policy and Emergency Response Plan.

Authority to establish this procedure is derived from the NorQuest College Board of Governors Policy No. 5 which delegates authority to the President and CEO to establish policies and procedures for the college’s management and operation.

The Office of the Registrar is the central point of contact and has the responsibility for communicating the death to the appropriate college departments so that the practical and operational issues related to the applicants, current or former student’s, or college alumni records and belongings are appropriately handled.

Verification of Facts and Reporting of Death
Notification of a death may come from a variety of sources (family/next of kin, media, social media) and any employee of the college who hears or reads of such news has the responsibility to report the death to the Office of the Registrar.

The Registrar or Associate Registrar is responsible to verify the facts prior to notifying and providing the Death of a Student Response Checklist to the directors and/or managers of appropriate college departments. Once these areas are notified, directors and managers are responsible to disseminate the information to appropriate staff. In cases where there are delays in verifying the facts, the Office of the Registrar may inform the Executive Office, the Faculty Dean, and Centre for Growth and Harmony of an alleged death without releasing the individual’s name.
